

Missions with Cristi Nemer

Ministry in Kenya, Africa

My name is Cristi Nemer, I'm 17 years old and am also a CCS homeschooler. I am currently serving in Chiapas, Mexico. I was born on the mission field, but my parents have been missionaries to South Mexico since 1989!

"If you would like to know more about me, you can read my adoption story at www.icristi.com

My dad is serving by training and sending missionaries, preaching at different churches, teaching others about making disciples, and fulfilling the great commission!

Last year we opened "Globe Mexico" which is a Mexican Missionary sending agency, this is where we are training Mexican missionaries to go to other nations. "Mexico was once a receiving nation but is now being trained to be a sending nation!"

Worship leading in Churches

When my dad is invited to speak at a church, I am also asked to share, instead of preaching I share by playing the guitar and singing.

I am also a translator on the field and at our Church “El Arca de la Amistad”. We have missionaries that come from America, Canada and even England.

It’s a great privilege to be able to serve internationally. Last year I had the privilege to travel with my family to four different countries in Europe and share about the Great Commission.

November 9th-21st

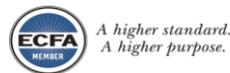

Next month, my Dad and I will be headed back to Mexico and will be training new missionary candidates in Chiapas, Mexico to go to the Nations.

I am raising money to be able to buy my plane ticket to go back to Mexico from

Not everybody is called to GO...but you can become a part by becoming a SENDER, so I’d like to give you an opportunity to partner with me in missions, you can do so at <http://www.icristi.com>
